I am going to either sell my system (listed in the for sale), or possibly have it repaired. The local shop was at a dead end trying to find a mosfit transistor on the preamp side...need part # FS-85677. Searched the web for hours.

Shop said they can get "noise" through bypassing, but need the transistor. They already put in a few parts in the preamp side.

If you turn the volume up, and tap the head, you can hear the reverb echo, etc. So the problem is the preamp.

Any suggestions? Thanks
