Hi all just join.Been a guitar player for over 40 years,Mostly rock' blue's stuff.Classic rock ect.I just bought 2 kustom heads off ebay.One is a 200a-1 the other a 4 channel 200 head,The 2 channel has some problems.It comes on but has a loud hum.The other sounds good.I also have 2 bottom.One has 2 JBL'S M-1 the other 2 JBL d-130 both 15in.They both sound killer.They are all black tuck and roll in decent shape.Hope to learn alot here.I also collect acoustic control amps.Plus i have a few marshall fenders randall johnson amplification amps.THANKS ROCKBOB

Welcome!Your kustom with the hum has a problem in the output/driver stage.The hum is DC voltage going to the speakers, which they do not like.Alot of times thats what takes out the speakers when the amp blows. It probibly needs all of 25 dollars worth of parts to get it back up and running. Let us know how it goes.
