In excellent condition?
This would be the same as a Kustom K250-4, am I right?

The Kasino Little Joe is different from a K250-4 head in some respects. Both are 125 watts RMS. The Little Joe is a single channel amp with Vol. Bass, Middle, Treble, DRIVE, Fuzz, Tremolo, Selective Boost and Wah. The K250-4 does not have Drive, but is a two channel amp with selectone.

AH! Single channel. That makes sense now.
Thanks.

In my research to see what my Kasino Snake eyes was worth,(yeah, it's for sale) I ran across one of these on Ebay that was being 'sold now' for $999. It looks very much like the Snake Eyes in the photo, with the silver striped cab face. Now I'm learning the differences here, thanks.

I don't think it's worth $999 and apparently no one else does.
That one's been up on eBay for a while now.

Yeah, it looked kinda silly, but maybe it was really really rare or something. I'm still trying to figure a value on the Snake eyes version.
