For sale on eBay is a vintage 2-blade power cord w/ clip (item 330755239684 <http://cgi.ebay.com/ws/eBayISAPI.dll?ViewItem&item=330755239684>) from a 1972 K250 amp head. This cord is in excellent condition. A perfect candidate for any Kustom/Kasino restoration, or suitable for any 2-wire vintage amp with a cord winder (Sunn, EMC, etc).

Really man? We throw these away or make speaker cables out of them. We put 3 prong cables on them with a ground. I have 40-50 of them and just cut a few of them up except one that has the Kustom logo molded into the top of the plug....only one I have ever seen like it. They aren't worth anything.

I thought I was the only one. They do make great light duty speaker cords. They are in surprising good condition for 40 year old cords.

That's a great idea about using it for speaker cable... will match the AC cord!
