I'm selling a 1973 black tuck & roll K250-2 with matching 2x15 cabinet. Really good shape and I bought this from the original owner who had left the amp in storage for almost 20 years. The amp has been completely gone through and tremolo, vibrato and reverb (original accutronics pan) function - even the power switch/polarity bulbs were replaced. This amp has two preamp channels (one with selectone) and is rated at 125W (RMS) into 8 ohms (loud and proud). The 2x15's are original and are in excellent shape (no rub or buzz).

The tuck and roll is in very good shape with two very small tears on the bottom of the head and a small hole (repaired) on the back panel of the speaker cab. All hardware is present and accounted for - including the rare speaker cab handles. The reverb and tremolo footswitch is also included.

Amp is located in San Francisco bay area (norther California). Asking $300.
