I've finally located some Altec 421A speakers for my '68 2x15 cab. It's an original CTS cab with matching jack plate. My purist side wants everything to match properly, hence the attempt to locate a proper Altec plate. As said, a shot in the dark, but if anybody would have one or know where to find one, it would be here. I'd be happy with a reproduction as well. Thanks for any leads.

A engraving shop that may still have its old time engraver can make you a new one but they can only engrave the Altec part as they can not in grave script I do not think.
If there are any in your area bring your CTS plate along as they may be able to just use the reverse side.
