
Subject: Pilot light bulb for Commander amp
Posted by jeffreylee on Sat, 21 Mar 2015 15:50:19 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

just got my 2nd commander up and running I need a bulb for pilot light . Are they still available ?

Subject: Re: Pilot light bulb for Commander amp
Posted by chicagobill on Sat, 21 Mar 2015 16:29:52 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

There is small screw-in bulb inside the blue lens cover that can be replaced. The bulb number is #335, 28 volts.

As I recall, if the chassis is removed and the top cover plate is taken off the socket can be unscrewed from the rear. Or if you can find a way to carefully remove the front blue lens cover, the bulb can be unscrewed from the socket by using a piece of heat shrink or rubber tubing.
