I've got a 200 bass cabinet with very rusty handle hardware, and rusty & bent plates on the bottom that the casters mount to. Any recommendations as to where I can find exact replacements, I want her to shine!!

You should be able to straighten the plates and clean them up with wire brush/sandpaper. Original handles can't be found. Brettun's Village has a replacement here:
<http://www.brettunsvillage.com/trunks/howto/parts/schandles.htm> about half way down the page. You have to use the plastic insert or use your old mount.

The bottom caster mount sub plates can be replaced with 1/8" thick flat aluminum bar stock that can be had at most hardware stores .

these look pretty good:
