I checked it out. Looks to be in really good shape. Wished the price was a little more reasonable. I like the $300 one I bought in Texas.

If anyone comes across anyone selling parts off of one of these, let me know since I am missing one of the function tabs on mine.....not even sure which one it is since I have it still at my brothers.

It looks really clean. It also is an early one that has not had the extra preamp added to it.

I can't tell what the speakers are, but they don't look original.

The speakers look like Peavey Scorpions.

Agreed, Pleat! We both have seen and owned enough of them!
