Well, I have to brag on Stevem. He quietened down my K25C-2 and modded in some treble bringing it to life. It's an excellent sounding amp now. Unbelievable actually. I would of never believed a Kustom amp could be made to be so quiet(no hiss whatsoever), and to have such a good sweet tone.

My K25C-2 had an annoying hum which did not go away when my local tech installed a 3 prong cord and 3 new caps. The amp lacked treble, lifeless. So I sent the amp to Stevem. The tech stuff is over my head, so he'll have to tell what all he did. But after he put in some new caps, transistors, and modded some other stuff, this has to be the quietest Kustom on the planet with nice treble & tone.

Thanks Stevem!

Stevem,

I have a K25 with similar symptoms. How much do you charge for getting it back to tip-top shape?

I bought an amp from Steve and it is one of the best sounding heads I have.
The man really knows his stuff.
Nice guy to deal with !
