Hello everyone. I just bought this Kustom PA with a whole bunch of other items and am looking for any information that you guys can give me. I have searched all kinds of sites with no luck. It just says Kustom V1 RMS PA in the upper right corner, and it has a graphic eq all inside a rack. I do not know how to insert an image as of yet so please let me send me an email if you would like a picture(or tell me how to post a picture lol) Any info at all would be helpful. Thank you so very much-CoreyLee

Welcome to the place. You can't post photos until you have something like 10 posts.

Is the unit that you are talking about a 6 channel mixing board with a graphic eq at the upper left side and woodgrain side panels?

Yes it is, it is in its own rack box, the pa itself takes up the top half, and the eq is below, then there is a drawer for cords and such. Any idea on the value??? I have been able to find nothing about it at all. Thanks so much. CoreyLee
