I have been looking for some black krinkle paint for the back of my K200. Can you still find it anywhere? I went to 4 stores today and no luck. Menards, Homdepot, Walmart and Johans fabrics. None of them carry it.

Have you tried an auto parts store?

I think that the last can I bought was at least 10 years ago. Illinois Bronze or Rustoleum were the only ones that I remember making it. I'll see if I still have any.

Yes I did find some at NAPA auto parts. I will see how it looks tomorrow. This is the first amp I have had where the paint is off of the back

VHT makes it , part number sp201.
Should be able to be had at most well stocked auto parts stores and speed/ performance stores.

That is the exact product I picked up. The job came out great. It wrinkled just like the original did. Now I just have to keep telling myself to leave it alone until tomorrow to put all the screws, and jacks back in.

Thanks much everyone for your input.
