I finally scored a 1968 Kolor Katalog - yay! My friends and I used to drool over that thing back in the day, glad to finally own one of my own. I got it for $16.50, shipping included, off of eBay. In good shape with some staining, but intact without tearing or dog-earing.

It came with the two Supplement pages - the ones that show the 3x12 cabs and the ones with the 2x10s in the top. I'd never seen these before outside of the images here in the Literature section - were those released separately? They "look" like pages that could or should be in the Katalog, but obviously are not.

The pages you mentioned with the 2x10 over 2x12 and the 3x12 cabs were introduced in the 1970 price sheet along with the K200-6 amp with selectone. The large color catalog you just got was introduced in late 68 for the 1969 catalog.

Thanks! So I got a twofer- I feel pretty special now!

Now, what's up with email notifications on this board? My account has been set to notify me of new topics ever since I can remember, but I stopped getting notified a long time (years) ago. Figured I'd at least get a notification of reply to this topic, but I didn't (and I made sure I had "Post Notification" checked).

I DID however, get email notification of the 250 reverb problem that was just posted - Checking my email, the last such notification I got was in August of 2015.

Is there something not working right on the board, or is it just me?

I only get notifications if someone sends me a private message. I just stay logged in and check the site everyday to see if someone has posted a question on the site. Didn't know there was a way to get notifications.
