Hi all,. I am looking to purchase a PC-5029 power board, for my K300-5 Kustom PA head.. Anyone have one, or a lead on one. Mine is burnt badly, and would be cost prohibitive to have repaired, but I can't just turn this think into a pile of parts, I'd love to fix it..

If you have not acquired one of these yet,I may be able to help. Have to check my notes on a 300-5 I picked up last year. I know one of the input boars was fried but believe the output was good. I know the PS and fuse were not blown. Let me find. My notes and I will get back to you on this. I had two fully functioning units but they both sold.

Sorry this took so long. Unfortunately I do not have the board. Thought I had one but a friend of mine reminded me yesterday while I was looking for it that I had sold it to him last year to fix one of his 300's.

Hope you find one for yours.

Whatever you do, don't trash it.
