I read that Small Bear Electronics is closing. They carry the exact replacement knobs for Kustom amps with the double dot pointers. I don't know if any other supplier will carry them, so I guess that if you want new knobs, now would be the time to order before they are no longer available.

I have ordered lots of these and they are perfect for replacing the big knobs on K200 and K150 and K250, etc.

Yes, I just ordered some parts from them and was happy to hear that they will continue to operate as Small Bear.
