Hey guys!

I was wondering where's the best place to look for getting a pair of replacement cabinet handles with grips? One of my cabinets is missing the grips and has the handle frames all bent up. Tried to straighten them out but its been a real pain... Any advice would be great thanks!

Go to page 2 of this repair section and you will find a post on handles and where to order them from.

To save you a little time going through that old thread, here is the link they were discussing:

I also found these. They look very similar and about the same price:

About 4 bucks each plus shipping (which, for 2 handles, looks like about $8)

Both of them come from China
